3.4.1: Outcomes of Extension activities in the neighbourhood community in terms of impact and sensitizing the students to social issues for their holistic development during the last five years:

Over the past five years, the extension activities carried out in the neighbourhood community have yielded significant outcomes, impacting both the community and the students involved. These initiatives have played a crucial role in sensitizing students to various social issues, contributing to their holistic development.

One of the primary impacts of these extension activities has been the improvement of the overall well-being of the neighbourhood community. Through initiatives such as health camps, awareness campaigns, and skill development workshops, residents have gained access to vital resources and information, leading to better health outcomes, increased employability, and enhanced quality of life. For instance, regular health camps conducted in collaboration with local healthcare professionals have facilitated early detection of health issues and promoted preventive measures, thereby reducing the incidence of diseases in the community. By actively engaging with members of the community and understanding their challenges, students have developed a deeper understanding of social issues such as poverty, inequality, and environmental degradation. This first-hand experience has sensitized them to the realities faced by marginalized groups and has motivated them to take action to address these issues. Through initiatives like community clean-up drives, food distribution programs, and educational support for underprivileged children, students have actively contributed to the welfare of the community, demonstrating their commitment to social change.

Moreover, the extension activities have provided students with valuable opportunities for experiential learning and personal growth. By stepping outside the confines of the classroom and actively participating in real-world projects, students have honed their leadership, communication, and problem-solving skills. They have learned to collaborate effectively with their peers and community members, navigate diverse perspectives, and adapt to unfamiliar situations. These experiences have not only enriched their academic learning but have also equipped them with the practical skills and competencies essential for success in their personal and professional lives.

Additionally, the engagement in extension activities has promoted cultural exchange and mutual understanding among diverse groups within the community. Through events such as cultural festivals, art exhibitions, and intercultural dialogue sessions, students have celebrated the rich diversity of their neighbourhood and fostered a sense of inclusivity and belonging.

Furthermore, serving as ambassadors of social change, students have inspired their peers, family members, and local stakeholders to become more actively involved in community development efforts. They have raised awareness about pressing social issues and advocated for sustainable solutions, contributing to a culture of civic engagement and collective responsibility.

In conclusion, the extension activities carried out in the neighbourhood community over the last five years have had a profound impact on both the community and the students involved. These initiatives have not only improved the well-being of residents but have also sensitized students to social issues, facilitated their holistic development, and fostered positive change at the individual, community, and societal levels. By continuing to prioritize community engagement and experiential learning, educational institutions can further cultivate socially responsible citizens who are equipped to address the complex challenges of the 21st century.

Establishment of NCC

The National Cadet Corps (NCC) in India is a voluntary organization which recruits cadets from high schools, colleges and Universities all over India. The Cadets are given basic military training in small arms and parades. The 1 Platoon of 36 boys and 18 Girls cadets under the 1 MPCTR NCC Bhopal unit was raised under FSFS scheme on 26-07-2022.

The NCC in India was formed with the National Cadet Corps Act of 1948. It was raised on 15 July 1948 The National Cadet Corps can be considered as a successor of the University Officers Training Corps (UOTC) which was established by the British in 1942. During World War II, the UOTC never came up to the expectations set by the British. This led to the idea that some better schemes should be formed, which could train more young men in a better way, even during peace times. A committee headed by Pandit H.N. Kunzru recommended a cadet organization to be established in schools and colleges at a

Training

Drill, shooting, Physical fitness, map reading, First aid, Gliding/Flying, boat pulling, sailing and camp training covering basic of military training in Army, Navy and Air Force.

This training is mostly carried out in schools and colleges by the cadets. In addition, depending upon the type of service, basic knowledge of that service is imparted to the cadets e.g. gliding, powered flying for Air Wing cadets and boat pulling, sailing for Naval Wing cadets form part of institutional training. These activities comprise approximately 50% of the entire syllabus. This is the most imp aspect of NCC Training and hence great emphasis on institutional training to be given. State DDG's to issue comprehensive instructions on organizing the Institutional Training at Group / Unit level. Following actions will be taken to improve the standard of Training.

- Optimum utilization of PI Staff for Training.
- Greater involvement of Officers, WTLO's and ANO's.
- Deficiencies in Training aids will be made up expeditiously.

Basic Training

Drill

Cadets must be made to understand the aim and purpose of teaching drill, so that they are suitably motivated and do not take it as "fatigue". Emphasis will be laid on correct bearing, marching, saluting and arms drill. Inter-squad competitions may be organized to create interest.

Weapon Training

Cadets generally take keen interest in Training and firing. Units must liaise with nearby Service and Para-Military Units to ensure that all cadets get an opportunity to fire their authorized ammunition. Use of firing simulators may be made to optimize Training efforts where possible.

Adventure Training

Adventure activities have been incorporated in NCC training with the aim of inculcating and strengthening leadership traits amongst the cadets. These activities in NCC can be broadly divided into the following.

- Land based - Mountaineering, Rock Climbing, Trekking.
- Water based - Sailing Expedition, White Water Rafting, Scuba Diving, River Crossing.
- Air based - Para sailing

Youth exchange programme

This is a very important activity. It is done to increase international understanding and bolster awareness. These exchanges are done with NCC community of 10 countries namely Australia, Bangladesh, Bhutan, Canada, Maldives, Nepal, Singapore, UK, Russia and Vietnam at international level.

Checks

All OC Units are keeping a check of Institutional Training regularly to ensure proper attendance. Attendance registers are marked before the commencement of the parade.

All DDG's are putting an effective monitoring mechanism which is in place to check attendance and conduct of this Training.

Other Activities

NCC has adopted community development activities with the aim of imbibing amongst cadets selfless service to the community, dignity of labour importance of self-help, need to protect the environment and to assist weaker sections of the society in their upliftment. This is envisaged through programmes involving:
